THE MEETING ON ONE PAGE

Objective: leave Friday as Golfzon's chain partner in Southern Africa, with the software conversation open.

The minimum to walk away with (non-negotiable):

1. A named Golfzon owner for the deal.
2. A date for chain pricing and the reference designs.
3. A yes to scoping "Get Lucky mode", with an NDA to share data.

A great outcome adds:

- A Golfzon demo bay at Icons Cup, Fancourt (11–13 December).
- An October date in Chantilly.
- A PGA Show plan for January.

Don't try to settle on Friday: revenue share percentages, exclusivity terms, or a firm order.

Icons Cup at Fancourt:
a Golfzon bay on the broadcast

WHAT HE HAS ALREADY SEEN

The Golfzon brief pitched Virgin Active only: 200 bays in three phases and about 385 across the group. It also said "Ernie Els: advanced talks, nothing signed". It ended with "We sell golf's most exciting moment, insured. Your simulators measure it better than any camera on a tee. Ask us in Virginia." Friday is where you answer that line. Since the brief, four things are new: Planet Fitness (72 more bays), Icons Cup and the R10m shot, the app being built, and the software proposal.

WHO YOU'RE MEETING

Sean Pyun: President and CEO, Golfzon America, and Head of Global Business.

- He has been CEO of Golfzon America since January 2024. In March 2026 Golfzon moved its Global Business Division from Korea to Chantilly, Virginia, with Pyun as Head of Global Business. The product team is moving to the US for the first time.
- His remit is North America, Europe, the Middle East and select SE Asian markets. Africa isn't named.
- He was born in Seoul and moved to the US at 14. He spent 16 years at the LPGA, rising from intern to Chief Business Officer, Asia, and closed title sponsorships in seven countries.
- He thinks in tours, leagues and brand partnerships. His record is partnerships with operators rather than one-off sales:
 - Arcis Golf (10 courses scanned into the simulator);
 - NGCOA and PGA sections;
 - Golf Genius (leagues and Tour);
 - USGA, Pebble Beach and Pinehurst;

- the Miami Dolphins;
- Leadbetter (owned by Golfzon since 2018).
- Spelling: Sean Pyun. Not "Shaun Payn". Check the invite, your notes and every follow-up.

Others who may join:

- Stephanie Krasner, Director of Business Development.
- Taylor Frampton, Director of Marketing.
- Dean Schneider, Director of GOLFZON Competitions (the Tour).

These titles come from LinkedIn and trade releases. If business development joins, that's a good sign: it means they're qualifying a chain deal.

Note: Aaron Flink works for Pebble Beach, not Golfzon. He is Pebble's EVP and Chief Strategy Officer and the voice on the Golfzon-Pebble deal. The outreach contact list had this wrong.

Time zones: Cape Town is 6 hours ahead of Virginia. A 10:00 call in Virginia is 16:00 in Cape Town.

■ WHAT'S NEW AT GOLFZON (AS OF 23 SEPTEMBER)

The business pressure: this is why he needs you.

- Golfzon's Korean business is shrinking. FY2025 revenue fell 22% to about $345M, and operating profit fell 29%.
- Q2 2026 operating profit fell 66.5%. Korean installs grew only 0.5%, and Korean screen rounds fell about 5%.
- Overseas is the growth story. It reached 22.8% of revenue for the first time, growing 26%, driven by US demand for TwoVision NX. Analysts expect about 27% in 2026.
- Overseas stores: Japan 1,290, China 1,260, US 930, Vietnam 80, and others 450.

What that means for Friday: Pyun's unit carries the group's growth. More revenue from bays already sold is exactly his problem, and Get Lucky mode answers it. Frame it that way. Don't mention Korea's decline to him.

What he's focused on right now:

- GOLFZON Tour Season 3 is live during your meeting: individual qualifying runs until 30 Sep, and team qualifying is in October.
 - 127 facilities in 14 countries, $300K in prizes, run through Golf Genius.
 - There are hosts in the UK, Riyadh (Five Iron) and Dubai, and none in Africa. A Southern African leg is an open door.
- Brand partnerships:
 - USGA: official simulator of the U.S. Open, with on-site prize games for fans.
 - Pebble Beach: a Golfzon Lounge at Spanish Bay from 2027, and "Road to Pebble Beach".
 - Pinehurst: "Road to Pinehurst".
 - The Miami Dolphins, NGCOA, and PGA sections (SCPGA, NorCal, Georgia).
- CityGolf Nashville: 175,000 sq ft, opening late 2026, with 10–15 US sites planned by 2030.
- The GOLFZON Global App relaunch (July): booking, Network Play rooms and "community challenges". Get Lucky mode could sit naturally there.
- What he says, in his words:
 - Network Play is his favourite technology.

- "Our biggest competitive advantage is our product."
- Golfzon "helps operators drive new revenue streams year-round".
- Indoor golf will be the first swing for 90% of new golfers.
- His vision is indoor golf as an Olympic sport.

The openings to use:

1. Golfzon already runs hole-in-one prizes, but only in Korea. G-Membership aces split a ₩30M pool (about $21K), and field hole-in-one insurance is bundled into the membership. Korean insurers (Hanwha, NH NongHyup) pay out on Golfzon aces. In the US, its ace prizes are gift cards and prize draws. No insured, big-prize programme exists there. That is the gap you fill.
2. Golfzon already lets a partner run a layer on its system. Golf Genius runs registration, scoring and standings for the leagues and the Tour, with Golfzon Global ID logins verifying scores. Golfzon keeps the simulator and the data. Get Lucky mode is the same model: Get Lucky runs the prize, insurance and payout layer.
3. Gyms. Golfzon markets to gyms and fitness centres but has no named gym-chain deal. Virgin Active and Planet Fitness would be the first.
4. Africa isn't in his stated remit (North America, Europe, the Middle East, select SE Asia). The only 2026 Africa activity is a simulator donated to the Dakar Youth Olympic Games. The SA distributor, iPlanet Golf, appointed in 2016, looks dormant. Present South Africa as the proof site for a global product, not as a market he has to go and build.

 WHAT GOLFZON WANTS, AND WHAT WE GIVE

GOLFZON WANTS	WHAT WE BRING
Chain customers, not dealer sales	A three-phase, 272-bay programme across two gym chains, with more Virgin Active territories to follow
The gym vertical it already sells into	Its first health-club group reference outside Korea and the US
Partnerships in the style of Pyun's operator deals	Operators rather than a procurement desk, with leagues on day one (600 golf days a year)
More rounds and more revenue per bay it has sold	Get Lucky mode: a new paid moment on every Golfzon bay worldwide, with the venue and Golfzon both earning
Content and courses	Get Lucky's 30 partner courses scanned into the library, the way Golfzon did it with Arcis, for Southern Africa
Brand and media	Icons Cup South Africa, broadcast to 150+ countries, with a Golfzon bay playing the Get Lucky hole

What each paid shot could earn Golfzon. At the planning case of 80 paid shots per bay per month and a $9 average entry, a bay takes about $720 a month in paid shots. At a 15% Golfzon share:

- Golfzon earns about $108 per bay per month, around $1,300 a year. That is on hardware already sold, with no new kit.
- The venue earns about $144 per bay per month at its 20% share.

For comparison, commercial Golfzon venues pay about $2–4K per bay per year for software today. Use these numbers to show the size of the prize, not as a rate offer.

RUN OF SHOW (45 MINUTES)

MIN	SEGMENT	WHAT YOU'RE DOING
0-3	Warm open	Thank him for the time. Mention Tour Season 3 (127 facilities, 14 countries, qualifying live now) and Pinehurst. The move to Chantilly is why you came to him and not a dealer
3-8	The bays (why you got the meeting)	Virgin Active 200 + Planet Fitness 72 = 272 bays , 2027-29, financed with RMB, operated by us. "We're choosing the platform now, and we want it to be Golfzon."
8-14	Listen	Discovery questions (below). Let him talk about chain deals, gyms and what he needs to quote
14-24	The turn: "Ask us in Virginia"	The software. The insured hole-in-one as a Golfzon product: Get Lucky mode, signed shot events, our wallet, insurance, claims and payouts. Korea already does ace pools, and we take it everywhere else, with big insured prizes
24-30	Icons and the timeline	Fancourt, 11-13 December, R10m on the Get Lucky hole, 150+ countries. A Golfzon bay in the fan zone. Then Chantilly in October and the PGA Show in January
30-40	The asks	Five asks, in order (below). Get a yes or a named owner on each
40-45	Lock next steps	Repeat back: owner, pricing date, NDA, scoping call, Chantilly date. "I'll send a note today."

THE TALK TRACK

Open (60 seconds)

Sean, thanks for making the time. When Golfzon moved global business to Chantilly, it told us where to come. This isn't a dealer conversation.

Quick context. Get Lucky sells golf's most exciting moment, insured: one swing at a par-3 for up to a million rand, with Santam carrying the risk. We're live at 30 courses with 10,000 paid entries.

We're now bringing simulators into South Africa's two biggest gym chains. That's 200 bays proposed to Virgin Active and 72 to Planet Fitness, financed with RMB and operated by us. We're choosing the platform now, and we want it to be Golfzon.

The bays

Three bay types, in three phases, from 2027:

- TwoVision NX Signature bays in the flagship clubs;
- Vision Play bays in the metro clubs;
- GDR Practice bays for coaching.

Planet Fitness sits down with us next Friday, and Virgin Active's product team this quarter. Both need a platform and a price to say yes. That's why you're first.

The turn (answer "Ask us in Virginia")

Here's the part the brief held back. We sell the hole-in-one, insured. Your simulators measure that shot better than any camera on a tee. So we'd like to build it into Golfzon: a Get Lucky mode.

Golfzon locks the tee and the settings and sends us the shot. We run everything else: the wallet, identity checks, the Santam cover, claims and payouts. Every Golfzon bay gets a new paid moment, and the venue and Golfzon both earn on every shot, with no new hardware.

You already do ace pools in Korea. We'd take it everywhere else, with real prizes and the insurance and compliance behind it. We start on our 272 bays, so you see the numbers from your own telemetry first.

Icons

In December, Ernie captains Team South Africa against Olazábal at Fancourt: 28 icons, broadcast to over 150 countries. Get Lucky owns a par-3 there with a R10 million hole-in-one on it. We'd love a Golfzon bay in the fan zone playing that hole. It's the launch moment for the whole thing.

If Ernie comes up (the brief already told him, in confidence):

Still advanced talks, nothing signed. You'll see him at Fancourt.

Close

Can we leave today with a name on your side, a date for pricing and reference designs, and an NDA so we can start scoping the mode? I'll send a note this afternoon with all of it written down.

THE FIVE ASKS, IN ORDER

#	ASK	GOOD ANSWER	IF HE HESITATES
1	Chain pricing on the three bay types across three phases, indicative, "subject to finance and concessions"	A date, ideally within two weeks, before the Planet Fitness LOI	"List is fine to start. RMB and the gyms need a number from Golfzon."
2	Two reference designs (two-bay and one-bay zone) and an SA service partner	His team owns it; he names the service route	Ask who installed Golfzon in SA before (iPlanet Golf, 2016). Keep the relationship direct
3	Scope Get Lucky mode: a 4–6 week technical scoping with his product or partnerships team	A named person and a first call	"A scoping call, no commitment. We write the spec."
4	NDA covering ace-rate history (aggregated, for Santam's pricing) and bay counts by country	Yes to the NDA; data after it	"Aggregated only. We share claims outcomes back."
5	A Golfzon bay at Fancourt , 11–13 Dec, playing the Get Lucky hole	Interest; routed to marketing (Taylor Frampton)	"It puts Golfzon on the broadcast. We'll do the work on the hole."

Then lock the calendar: Chantilly in October (the brief promised the founders in the US in October), and PGA Show, Orlando, 26-29 January 2027, with a reference design on the Golfzon stand.

NUMBERS TO HAVE TO HAND

The programme (hardware at list, from the bay models):

BAY	GOLFZON UNIT	LIST	VIRGIN ACTIVE	PLANET FITNESS	TOTAL	HARDWARE AT LIST
Signature	TwoVision NX	$60,000	40	20	60	$3.60M
Play	Vision Standard	$35,000	120	46	166	$5.81M
Practice	GDR Plus	$22,000	40	6	46	$1.01M
Total			200	72	272	$10.42M

Phasing.

- 2027: Signature bays in the flagship clubs (40 at Virgin Active, 20 at Planet Fitness).
- 2028: Play bays in the metro clubs (100 Virgin Active, 40 Planet Fitness).
- 2029: smaller clubs (Virgin Active 20 Play + 40 Practice; Planet Fitness 6 Play + 6 Practice).

Service is modelled at 4% of hardware a year, about $417K a year to Golfzon once all 272 bays are in.

Chapter two (from the brief). Virgin Active runs about 230 clubs in eight countries, with about 185 more bays planned outside Southern Africa by 2031:

- UK: ~65
- Italy: ~65
- Australia: ~25
- Singapore and Thailand: ~30

The economics we run on (per mature bay):

- Signature: R1.40m revenue a year, 61% EBITDA, 1.7-year payback.
- Play: R909k, 58%.
- Practice: R653k, 54%.
- The gym takes 20%. Get Lucky puts in 10% equity and RMB finances 90%.

Get Lucky proof points:

- 30 partner courses and 18,000 members.
- 10,000 paid entries across 800 activations in 12 months, and 600 golf days a year.
- The app is built: 95 courses, 385 par-3s, a sealed claims chain.
- Santam carries the risk, placed by Indwe.

Golfzon's own numbers (show you know them):

- About 13,000 locations in 40+ countries, 6M+ members, 100M+ rounds a year. Overseas stores: 4,010, including 930 in the US.
- Overseas revenue was 22.8% of the total in FY2025, up 26%.
- 143,020 aces logged in 2022, about 1 in 7,000 par-3 shots.
- The US business grew 90%+ in 2025.

QUESTIONS TO ASK HIM

Ask these early, and listen for the chain-deal mechanics:

1. "How do you like to structure a chain deal like this: direct, or with a regional partner?"
2. "What do you need from us to put a price and reference design on the table?"
3. "Who in Southern Africa would you trust to install and service 172 clubs?"
4. "Does Golfzon have a leasing or vendor-finance programme we should put next to RMB?"
5. "Golf Genius runs the competition layer on your system. Who owns partner integrations like that, and how did you scope it?"
6. "Your G-Membership hole-in-one challenge in Korea: how do you verify aces, and would you share the ace rates for pricing? Why hasn't it come to the US?"
7. "Would a Southern African leg of Tour Season 4 be interesting? We could host it on the gym bays."
8. "Where do you see the gym vertical going for Golfzon globally?"
9. "What would make this a reference account you'd want to show at the PGA Show?"

HARD QUESTIONS, AND YOUR ANSWERS

HE ASKS	YOU SAY
"Is Virgin Active signed?"	"No. The proposal goes to Virgin Active's product team this quarter, and Planet Fitness sits down with us next Friday. Both need a platform and a price to say yes. That's why we came to you first." (True, and it makes his quote the thing that unlocks it.)
"Why Planet Fitness now as well?"	"It's founder-led and decides fast. 72 bays, Sandton first. And it gives us two chains, so the programme doesn't hang on one."
"How is it funded?"	"Asset finance structured with RMB for 90%, and our 10% equity. RMB needs your quote and a signed chain to approve. Do you have a vendor-finance programme we should look at?"
"Are you looking at TrackMan?"	"We're choosing the platform now. TrackMan is in a lot of premium bays here. We want one platform across the chain, and we'd rather it was Golfzon: network play, Leadbetter content, the gym track record."
"Isn't the insured shot gambling? It's our brand."	"It's an insured prize contract, not a bet. The prize is paid by Santam, not from entry money. We carry the compliance: legal opinions per market, and paid play only where it's permitted; everywhere else it's free play with sponsor prizes. Golfzon is the technology. It's the same as your Korean ace pools, with the insurance and payouts handled by us."
"Why would we open our software to a third party?"	"It's a mode and an event feed, not access to your core. You've done integrations like it before (Golf Genius). It adds a new paid moment to bays you've already sold, and Golfzon earns on every shot."
"What revenue share are you thinking?"	"We'd like Golfzon to earn on every paid shot, and we'd rather scope the mode first and then put a number on it together. There's also the hardware on our side of the table." (Don't anchor. Planning figure: 15%.)
"Do you want exclusivity?"	"We'd like Golfzon as the standard on every bay we run, and Get Lucky as Golfzon's insured-prize partner in the markets we open. Let's define that after scoping."
"Africa isn't in my remit."	"That's why South Africa is the proof site, not the ask. The global part is Get Lucky mode on your bays in the US, Europe and the Middle East. South Africa gives you the first gym-chain reference and the first insured-prize programme outside Korea, with the numbers coming from your own telemetry. And the Tour has no African host yet."
"We already do ace prizes."	"In Korea, with a pool and insurance in the membership. In the US it's gift cards. We bring the big insured prize, the payouts and the compliance to your overseas bays, which is where your growth is."
"Can you really hit 2027?"	"Signature bays in the flagship clubs in 2027 is the plan. Pricing in October, the chain LOI, then RMB. We're working to confirm the phase-one order at the PGA Show in January."
"What about Ernie?"	"Advanced talks, nothing signed, as the brief said. He captains Team South Africa at Fancourt in December."

WHAT TO TRADE, AND WHAT TO HOLD

We can give:

- Golfzon as the hardware standard on every Get Lucky-operated bay.
- A co-branded reference site.

- The PGA Show story.
- Content: 30 courses to scan.
- Leagues, and a Southern African leg of the Golfzon Tour.
- Golfzon on the Icons broadcast.
- Claims data shared back.

We want in return:

- Chain pricing below list.
- Reference designs.
- A service model.
- Get Lucky mode, with the event feed and data.
- Golfzon's name on our side in the Virgin Active and Planet Fitness rooms.

Hold on Friday:

- No revenue share percentage.
- No global exclusivity for the insured-shot product.
- No firm order.
- Don't call the programme "an order".
- Don't send the Virgin Active pitch site.
- Don't put anything new about Ernie in writing.

 THE SAME-DAY FOLLOW-UP

Send it the same afternoon. Adjust it to what was actually agreed.

SUBJECT

Get Lucky × Golfzon: next steps from today

Hi Sean,

Thank you for the time today. Really enjoyed the conversation, and it's clear Golfzon is the right partner for this.

What we agreed:

- Pricing and reference designs. Indicative chain pricing for the three bay types across the three phases, plus a two-bay and a one-bay zone design, from [name] by [date].
- Get Lucky mode. A scoping call with [name] to map the mode and the shot feed. We'll send a one-page spec ahead of it.
- NDA. Attached, so we can share data both ways: aggregated ace rates for our insurer, and bay counts by market.
- Fancourt. We'll send the Icons Cup details for a Golfzon bay playing the Get Lucky hole, 11–13 December.
- Chantilly. We're in the US in October. Would [date] work at Golfzon HQ?

Planet Fitness sits down with us next Friday, and a Golfzon price and design will carry that room.

Look forward to building this with you.

Warm regards,

Johannes Le Roux Founder, Get Lucky Golf johannes@getluckygolfclub.com · +27 60 961 5091
